Pastoral Letter from the Fr. Sergio Romo, Pastor

"Saint Andrew Parish has a long history of generous support of the Annual Catholic Appeal. "

"One of the challenges for any community is to resist the temptation to become insular. It's much easier to focus only on the members' needs and wants than to look outward and concern itself with other group's needs. Thankfully, this is not an issue for our parish community. From our support of our sister parish in Uganda to our participation in the Greater Chicago Food Depository, and many other outreach programs, our parish eagerly extends healing hands to a world in need of hope and compassion.

This weekend our parish, along with other parishes in the Archdiocese of Chicago, will begin its discernment of support for the Annual Catholic Appeal (ACA). The ACA supports the parishes, schools, ministries, programs and agencies that serve the spiritual and physical needs of people, Catholic and non-Catholic alike, in the greater Chicago metropolitan area. The ACA also supports Catholic Relief Services, which provides emergency response services to communities throughout the world that have suffered the effects of a natural disaster. Saint Andrew Parish has a long history of generous support of the ACA. Every year we receive a significant refund for the money raised over the amount we are asked to raise. In turn, these refunds have gone towards the support of our own parish's ministries. Please join me this weekend and the following two weekends in discerning our support for this worthwhile cause.

May God bless you for your generosity!
Fr. Sergio"

2019 Annual Catholic Appeal

"Come Follow Me… and share the Word"

Please spend some time this week reflecting on the Annual Catholic Appeal brochure that you received with your bulletin. The Annual Catholic Appeal is much different than a one-time special collection. It is a pledged campaign commitment where you can make a gift payable in installments. A pledge is a promise to make a gift over a span of time.

Each pledge makes a difference because all parishes participate in the campaign and the gifts of many enable our Archdiocese to deliver needed ministries and services to answer Jesus' call to "Come, Follow Me…and share the Word."

Once we reach our parish goal of $ 28,000 in paid pledges, 100% of any additional funds come back to our parish to help fund our needs.

If you received your pledge form in the mail, please complete it and mail it back or bring it to Mass next weekend. For those of you who did not receive a mailing or have not had time to respond, we will conduct our in-pew pledge process at all Masses next weekend.

Thank you for your prayerful consideration and generous response.

LISTENING SESSION

Our local Vicariate leader, Bishop Bartosic, has asked for every parish to offer local listening sessions in which pastoral leaders will listen to parishioner's concerns about the child sexual abuse crisis facing the church hierarchy. These sessions will have summary notes that will be taken and shared with Bishop Bartosic. Saint Andrew 's Listening Session on the Crisis of Child Sexual Abuse will be held on Thursday, March 7, 2019 at 7:00pm in the Auditorium. Please feel free to come and share your thoughts and concerns on this important topic.

Learn

At every stage of life, we engage our members to learn. From our Blue-Ribbon school to our K-8 Religious Education program, preparation for Marriage and Baptism to opportunities for young adults and parents, we are dedicated to fostering deeper knowledge of God and self as we grow step by step.

"If we already have everything, Jesus asks, do we have room for God? "

Scripture Reflection by Deacon Mark Purdome

We hear Jesus giving us a set of beatitudes today in the Sermon on the Plain. But what is a beatitude? They are common throughout the Old Testament, and they are an ancient formula for encouraging people by offering blessings for good behavior. Both today's Psalm and first reading also contain beatitudes. As an example, Jeremiah says that if you trust in the Lord, you will stand tall when there are troubles.

But as usually happens with Jesus, he takes this common way of encouraging people to do the right things and he turns it upside down. Blessed are you, Jesus says, if you are suffering. But this is contrary to how human nature works – we don't seek to suffer, we seek to reduce suffering! We don't seek to be outcasts, but to be included!

Today's paring of the Gospel of Luke and the prophet Jeremiah give us a little clue, perhaps, to one way to understand Jesus' message. Jeremiah tells us that there is a stark choice, a choice between being a withered bush and a fruitful green tree, and that choice is whether we hope and trust in the Lord. It is all too easy to only trust in ourselves. To believe that we ourselves are the source of all of our blessings; to rely on our own cleverness to get ourselves to heaven. That's the second half of today's Gospel, the "woe" section. If you build your world only on yourself, then you have already received your reward.

But if you follow Jeremiah's advice, if you place your hope and trust in the Lord, then we keep open a place inside our hearts, a place that we ask God to fill. Because if we already have everything, Jesus asks, do we have room for God?

The same argument can be made for our place in the community. If we are satisfied, do we have room for the poor, the hungry, the weeping? Or do we have a place inside us where we weep? Pope Francis warns us that "Almost without being aware of it, we end up being incapable of feeling compassion at the outcry of the poor, weeping for other people's pain and feeling a need to help them, as though all this were someone else's responsibility and not our own" Evangelii Gaudium #54

That's the stark choice offered to us in today's readings. Do we weep for the poor? Are we filled with compassion when we encounter the hungry? Do we stand for what is right, even when it isn't part of the prevailing conventional wisdom? Do we completely stuff ourselves full of the things of this world, or do we hold open a place to be filled by God?

Blessed is the one who trusts in the Lord.

Deacon Mark

The Sacraments

In Living the Sacraments, author Joe Paprocki describes the sacraments as "thin moments," significant opportunities when "we find ourselves encountering and keenly aware of the divine presence." When we celebrate a sacrament, we celebrate in a very tangible way the intangible God - we have a visible reminder of God's love for us. These are not the only moments when we encounter God, but they are moments when we can see and hear God acting directly through the sacramental rites to touch us, individually. Take some time this week to contemplate the sacraments you have received, or the ones you have yet to receive. Can you draw upon those moments now? Can you allow those sacraments to strengthen you, long after you have received them? As Paprocki says, "As Catholics, our quest is not just to receive the sacraments but to live the sacraments."

Things to Do at Home:

Watch: The Confession on YouTube, a Best Short Film of the International Catholic Film Festival

Read: Living the Sacraments by Joe Paprocki, published by Loyola Press: Chicago, 2018.

Do: Send a special card to someone on the anniversary of their baptism, confirmation, or marriage, telling them how you love and support them as they live out their promises.

Pray: Dedicate time each morning to praying for those who are preparing to receive a sacrament this month.

STEWARDSHIP OF GIFTS

Last month 148 households supported Saint Andrew's Sunday Offertory through electronic giving. That is a decrease of 10 households in a single month. Our goal by the end of the year is to reach 200 households giving electronically by the end of the year. Electronic giving helps to normalize our budget and yours and allows for support of the parish even when travel and unexpected circumstances arise.

Please learn more about electronic giving at www.standrew.org/give

SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES

Wearin' The Green Committee - We're in need of additional volunteers to help plan and execute our annual fundraiser the "Wearin' the Green." Planners, organizers, askers, and extra hands are all needed. Contact julie@standrew.org to express interest.
