Pastoral Letter

by Father Sergio Romo, Pastor

“We can help the Body of Christ flourish, not just her in Lakeview and Uganda, but in other places like Jackson MS as

With a Catholic church seemingly on every few blocks, it’s easy to think life for Catholics everywhere is just like it is in Chicago. Being the majority religion in a major metropolitan area makes it difficult for us to comprehend what life might be like for our sisters and brothers in other faith communities where Catholics are a minority. We might be tempted to think that every believer enjoys the relative ease with which we practice our faith in Chicago.

Last summer, I was invited by the Catholic Extension to participate in an immersion experience in the Diocese of Jackson MS. I witnessed what life is like for Catholics there, where Catholics comprise less than 3% of the population. Resources like adequate places for worship, priests and religious to staff parishes, and funds to support ministries are limited. And yet, these setbacks do not hamper people’s faith. Perhaps, because of them, their faith is truly alive.

Catholic Extension works to support mission dioceses across the US, so that faithful believers are able to practice their faith. Having seen this work in action, I have a whole new appreciation for the Catholic Extension. Please join me in supporting Catholic Extension through our prayers and financial support.

By living out our Lenten theme this year, “Mercy for All-Pray-Fast-Give,” and supporting Catholic Extension, we can help the Body of Christ flourish, not just here in Lakeview and Uganda, but in other places like Jackson, MS, as well. Learn more about the work of Catholic Extension on page 8 of the bulletin.

“Imagine yourself as each of the characters in the parable of the Prodigal Son”

Scripture Reflection by Deacon Mark Purdome

A spiritual director once gave me the assignment of meditating on the parable of the Prodigal Son, imagining myself as each of the characters in the story: the younger son who is a spendthrift but eventually repentant; the father who longs for his son’s return; the community invited to the banquet; and the older brother, who is resentful and bitter.

Some of those meditations were easier than others. It is fun, for example, to imagine yourself as the forgiving and compassionate father, because in that role we see the best in ourselves, and we see the infinite love of God. But I found the last two much more challenging: the community invited to the banquet and the older brother.

The father wants to make sure that his son is not just accepted back into the family, but into the community. He wants to demonstrate that his welcoming back of his son isn’t just a show to relieve his embarrassment, but true forgiveness. So he throws a banquet, an unexpected luxury. As I put myself into this scene, I recall the number of times that I’ve doubted someone’s reconciliation. The times that I’ve figuratively stood in the back of the room, gossiping with another guest about the sins of the younger brother.

These days, in a world where truth seems to matter less than it once did, it is too easy to spread innuendo and suspicion; to spread gossip and rumor instead of love and compassion.

The older brother is also a challenge. Fr. Dennis Hamm notes that the literal translation of the brother’s words are, “All these years I slaved for you”. The older son views his relationship with his father not as a relationship of love but one of slavery, and because of his bitterness he has a burning desire for “justice” – human retribution – to be done.

It is easy, but uncomfortable, for me to insert myself into this scene. To recognize that I, too, have a desire to see people “get what they deserve.” This is a real discomfort, because I realize that I have a long way to go to rid myself of bitterness and to truly be filled with joy at God’s extravagant forgiveness.

The parable of the Prodigal Son invites us to meditate not just on God’s infinite forgiveness, but on our own response. Are we able to let go of our own bitterness, our own jealousy? To fully join in the celebration rather than standing alone outside? Because God certainly wants you inside, dancing and filled with joy.

- Deacon Mark

Make A Seven Church Pilgrimage

One of the richest traditions in the Catholic Church is to make a pilgrimage. It can be near or far, long or short. A great way to get started in this tradition is the annual 7 Church Pilgrimage on Holy Thursday (April 18, 2019). Of course “seven” is a symbolic number representing “universal” or “complete.” When we visit seven churches on Holy Thursday after the Mass of the Lord’s Supper, it is a commemorative act in which we are praying with the entirety of the Church on the night Jesus prayed in the Garden of Gethsemane. We are providing to you a recommended map with a route that makes it fairly easy to do. Find out more about the route and the Churches we recommend to visit at www.standrew.org/7churches

We also recommend parishioners who are up for a more physically intensive pilgrimage to participate in the “Camino de Chicago” sponsored by The Camino Project. This is a walking pilgrimage of seven churches with a non-profit organization begun by Tommy Burke, one of our parishioners. The Camino Project supports young adults making the Camino in Spain. # Get Involved

STEWARDSHIP OF GIFTS

Saint Andrew is a community of disciples from all over the city, county, and world who make the Lakeview neighborhood their home. We gather to learn about and make known God's love and promise of salvation so we can transform the world through our everyday actions.

We invite you to share in the responsibility for care and maintenance of this community by generously contributing of our Time, Talent and Treasure.

Time - We take time to pray and to grow as disciples of Jesus Christ.

Talent - We offer our skills and talents for the organization success of our community.

Treasure - We contribute generously from our financial resources for the wellbeing of our parish.

PROTECTING CHILDREN

REMINDER: Keeping children safe is the work of our entire community. During the Listening Session on Clerical Sexual Abuse held on Thursday, March 7, 2019, we heard from many parishioners about the need to constantly communicate our policies. You may read their comments at www.standrew.org/openforum.

If you see abuse or are the victim of abuse, call 911 or The Department of Child and Family Services at 1-800-25-ABUSE. If the perpetrator is church personnel or volunteer, after calling the police, call 312-534-5252 to notify the Archdiocese of Chicago Office of the Protection of Children and Youth. Read about our policies and measures to keep children safe on our website at www.standrew.org. We stand together in our outrage of child sexual abuse and commitment to ending it.
